IN THE CLAIMS:

Please amend claim 23 as follows. A marked-up copy of this claim is attached.

23. (Three Times Amended) A superconducting wire comprising:
a fine line of a sintered, compact oxide superconductor having dispersed therein particles of a solidified metallic material filling voids in said oxide superconductor to make the superconducting wire solid;

said fine line of oxide superconductor having an outer coating of a conductive material comprising a metal having a melting point higher than that of the solidified metallic material, wherein the compact oxide superconductor has the solidified metallic material on its outer surface.
